Contributors

A. PETER BROWN is the editor of a performing edition of Haydn's The Creation based on the composer's own performance materials, to be published by Oxford University Press.

MARTIN CHUSID is professor of music at New York University and director of the American Institute for Verdi Studies. The Verdi Archive at N.Y.U. (compiled by Chusid) contains more than 1000 manuscript and printed sources, 2000 librettos, and considerable production material.

DON HARRÁN, Artur Rubinstein Professor of Musicology at the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, is the author of several books, most recently In Search of Harmony: Hebrew and Humanist Elements in Sixteenth-Century Musical Thought (1988) and In Defense of Music: The Case for Music as Argued by a Singer and Scholar of the Late Fifteenth Century (1989).

E. EUGENE HELM is Professor of Music at the University of Maryland and Coordinating Editor of the Carl Philipp Emanuel Bach Edition.

H. WILEY HITCHCOCK teaches at Brooklyn College of the City University of New York. Among his research interests is the music of Caccini, Peri, and — most recently — Cavalieri.

GEORGE HOULE, Professor of Music at Stanford University, is the author of "Doulce Memoire," a Study in Performance Practice to be published by Indiana University Press in the spring of 1990.

KIMBERLY MARSHALL is University Organist and Associate Professor of Music, Stanford University.

PHILIP LIESON MILLER, former Chief of the Music Division, New York Public Library and Senior Critic of American Record Guide, is currently working on a volume of German Lieder texts for The German Library (Deutsches Haus, New York University).

NANCY M. RAABE is music critic of the Milwaukee Sentinel.

ERICH SCHWANDT, who teaches at the University of Victoria in British Columbia, is an authority on sacred music in New France. His articles and editions of this repertoire have helped to clarify the history of music in 17th- and 18th-century North America.

JAMES TYLER, music director of the London Early Music Group and Los Angeles Musica Viva, is Assistant Professor and Director of the Program in Early Music Performance at the University of Southern California. He is the author of The Early Guitar (Oxford, 1980), and co-author of The Early Mandolin (Oxford, 1989).

THE JOURNAL OF MUSICOLOGY

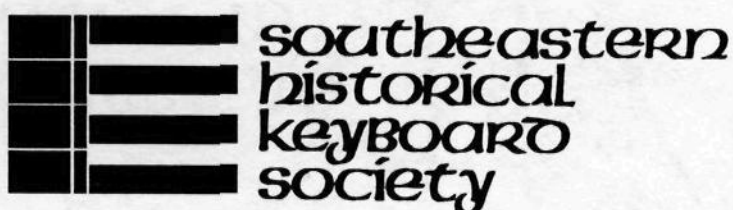

A Quarterly Review of Music History,
Criticism, Analysis, and Performance Practice

Now in its seventh year, the Journal of Musicology continues to provide comprehensive coverage of the current state of the art.

The Journal of Musicology is an indispensable resource both for research and for remaining in touch with new and sometimes controversial turns of musicological thought.

The Southeastern Historical Keyboard Society is a non-profit, regional organization committed to the promotion of interest in and the study of early keyboard instruments, principally harpsichord, clavichord, fortepiano, and organ prior to 1860, and the music intended for these instruments.

SEHKS provides a forum for all aspects of early keyboard music through its meetings and publications. Membership is open to all interested persons including performers, builders, musicologists, educators, composers, and enthusiasts.

Activities of the organization include...

- ❖ Annual Conclaves offering concerts, lectures, demonstrations, and exhibits of instruments and music.
- ❖ Publications consisting of a semiannual Newsletter to keep the membership informed of activities and concerns of the organization, and special events of interest within the region, and the Early Keyboard Journal. Included in the Journal are scholarly papers, book reviews, a catalog of antique keyboard instruments in the Southeast, and, beginning in volumes 6-7, an early keyboard bibliography.
- ❖ Competitions to encourage young performers and to generate interest in new compositions for the harpsichord.

For more information and a membership application, write to the Southeastern Historical Keyboard Society, P. O. Box 32022, Charlotte, NC 28232-2022.
