A Topologist's Broken Heart

Josh Hiller
Adelphi University

Follow this and additional works at: https://scholarship.claremont.edu/jhm

Part of the Arts and Humanities Commons, and the Mathematics Commons

Recommended Citation

©2022 by the authors. This work is licensed under a Creative Commons License.
JHM is an open access bi-annual journal sponsored by the Claremont Center for the Mathematical Sciences and published by the Claremont Colleges Library | ISSN 2159-8118 | http://scholarship.claremont.edu/jhm/

The editorial staff of JHM works hard to make sure the scholarship disseminated in JHM is accurate and upholds professional ethical guidelines. However the views and opinions expressed in each published manuscript belong exclusively to the individual contributor(s). The publisher and the editors do not endorse or accept responsibility for them. See https://scholarship.claremont.edu/jhm/policies.html for more information.
My heart beats, discrete in time. And Like all discrete sets are clopen.

Likewise the intervals between those beats, of discreet love, leave me closed while open.

Memories of we two form the sets of happy Nostalgia. These same sets of course, homotope to, the points of deep psychalgia.

And so my Love, I think of You, of Us and our time that was: of the memories that were and of moments that cannot be again, because Time is an ordered set, you see, and our points in time have gone.
So, in this most exquisite Pain
my heart shall and must remain perpetually closed while open.
Your love, my dear
has doomed me to live
eyternally
Clopen