

Aliso: A Journal of Systematic and Evolutionary Botany

Volume 9

Issue 1 *Rancho Santa Ana Botanic Garden—The First
Fifty Years, 1927–1977*

Article 14

1977

Acknowledgments

Lee W. Lenz

Rancho Santa Ana Botanic Garden, Claremont, California

Follow this and additional works at: <http://scholarship.claremont.edu/aliso>

Part of the Botany Commons, and the Horticulture Commons

Recommended Citation

Lenz, Lee W. (1977) "Acknowledgments," Aliso: A Journal of Systematic and Evolutionary Botany: Vol. 9: Iss. 1, Article 14.
Available at: <http://scholarship.claremont.edu/aliso/vol9/iss1/14>

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

I am indebted to a great many people who have contributed in many ways to the writing of this history. First and foremost I would like to thank Ernest A. Bryant, Jr, and Ernest A. Bryant III, son and grandson, respectively, of the founder of the garden who on numerous occasions have recalled little-known or unrecorded facts about the early days of the botanic garden as well as events leading up to its establishment. I would also like to thank Mrs Ernest R. Johnson, Mrs Philip A. Munz, John R. Fleming, Robert J. Bernard, Mrs Grace Korewick, Anselmo Lewis, Mrs Martha Parsons, Ruth M. Houser, and Mrs Jean Beckner. To Dr L. R. Heckard, University of California, Berkeley, I owe a deep debt of gratitude for permission to examine the Jepson material and to reproduce portions of it. I also want to thank Dr John Thomas, Stanford University, for permission to examine the Abrams correspondence. I would like to express my appreciation to Drs Lincoln Constance and Rimo Bachigalupi, University of California, Berkeley, for the opportunity of discussing with them matters relating to the early days of the garden. To John Thomas Howell, California Academy of Sciences, San Francisco, I owe thanks for calling my attention to errors in previously published material and for relating incidents concerning daily life at the botanic garden during its formative period.

I want to thank my colleagues at the garden who reviewed the manuscript and made helpful suggestions. My special thanks go to Mrs Bea Beck, librarian, who was most helpful in checking dates and in locating rare and obscure items. I also want to express my appreciation to my secretary, Mrs Betty Brunstad, who typed the manuscript.