Corrections

In HMNJ #18's "On Solving Equations, Negative Numbers, and Other Absurdities: Part II" by Ralph A. Raimi, an error occurred near the end of page 33. The line "their area...is their inner product $xu + yv$. Work it out; it is b ," should be "...the area (work it out) is b ." The area is not the inner product of the two vectors. The products of their lengths is b ; the inner product is zero.

JoAnne Grownney's poetry was accidentally published without acknowledging its prior publication, in The College Mathematics Journal (March 1996) for "Geometry Class" and in Mathematics Magazine (October 1995) for "Finding Time." We apologize for the omission.
